

As a security professional, it's challenging enough to keep your organization secure. Keeping an eye on your third-party vendors can make the task even more overwhelming. Every day, companies rely on outside products and services to support their customers. Add on cloud migration and SaaS-based applications, and everyone is on edge about security and the associated risks. Third party security compliance may be simply out of your hands. At ConnectWise we understand these concerns and have built a risk assessment platform, ConnectWise Identify, that provides companies with the tools, questions, and remediation strategies to manage their risks. The assessment allows you to re-frame the security conversation with your vendors to simply and methodically point out high risk practices that need remediation.

ConnectWise Identify allows you to remotely assess your entire vendor base as many times as needed. You can send the assessment to each of your vendors and can monitor and track their progress towards completion of the assessment. The report lays the foundation for a security-based conversation complete with remediation recommendations. The Analytics Security dashboard gives you visibility into all your vendors and their risks from a single application. The dashboard tracks all the assessments and provides a historical view reflecting how your vendors are maturing their security posture. There are several out of the box reports which allow you to compare how your vendors measure up to other vendors in the same industry, size and geography.

What Makes Our Product Special?

Our remote assessment tools are specially built by CISO's for CISO's. Some of the most influential and well respected CISO's in the industry contribute to all aspects of our solution. Our remote assessment tools were designed to help security professionals assess corporate locations, remote or franchise locations, along with their 3rd party vendors all from a single application dashboard. These assessments can be deployed anytime, and we will provide comprehensive technical support and assist your staff or remote locations with answers to questions they may have regarding the assessment or results.

ConnectWise's SaaS based, low cost, interactive, non-intrusive solutions do not require additional labor, hardware, appliances or devices that could impact the network. It's easy to use interface generates reports that compare to what you would receive from a traditional consulting firm but at a fraction of the costs, within minutes of being launched. Additionally, a ConnectWise Identify assessment can be run multiple times a year based on organizational needs and isn't restricted to a traditional assessment schedule and cost. Save time, money and gain a clear vision of your security posture today!
